FEROS GROUP PRESS RELEASE

HOTEL LICENCE APPROVED FOR CARINGBAH VENUE

A full hotel licence has been approved for a new venue in Caringbah, consisting of two levels above existing Feros Group venues Huxley's and Ugly Pizza. This approval was the result of several years of planning and consultation with key authorities and the community.

The vision for the first level is to create a traditional Australian public bar with great sporting facilities, classic food offering, TAB facilities and a wide range of beers on tap.

The top level (rooftop) will feature a rooftop bar and exciting food offering with sweeping views of the Shire and Sydney city.

"I'm so excited about this venue and bringing a new product offering to the Caringbah community", announced Chris Feros, the Feros Group's CEO and Director. "It's such a great space with amazing views - I fell in love with it from the minute I saw it and I know our customers will feel the same way."

The development of a new venue in Caringbah aligns with the broader Feros Group strategy to continue to invest in the Shire region.

"We believe there is customer demand for great venues in the Shire and that is why we are investing in the region. As well as Caringbah, we will be launching our new venue in Kirrawee, The Prince, in early 2017 and refurbishing the Taren Point Hotel next year."

It is envisioned that part of the new Caringbah venue will be open by mid-2017 with the venue fully operational by the end of 2017.
